

School of Education
Master of Educational Leadership

Dear School Administrator, defines leadership potential as the critical skills and dispositions that a candidate must demonstrate prior to entering the program. These skills and dispositions must include a relentless focus on improving student achievement in the candidate's classroom and contributing to the demonstrable improvement in teaching effectiveness in colleagues' classrooms. Please rate the candidate on each Florida Educational Leadership Standard, and comment on the